CANAL POINT

Mrs. Mary M. North of Washington, D. C. is a guest of her daughter Mrs. P. C. Filly at the home of Mrs. A. H. Hankin Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.
"Gran" Cross, grandmother of Francis Cross, has returned from West Palm Beach and will spend some time in Canal Point.
Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Sims entertained friends from Clewiston over the week end.
Kathleen Bowen, publisher of the Glades County Democrat at Moore Haven, spent a few hours in Canal Point Wednesday.

Permits Required

Growers of right and of vegetables that are sold to the Middleman fruit firm who desire to ship fruits and these best vegetables must first obtain a certificate for permit. C. H. Taylor, Jr., 514 S. W. Second court, Fort Lauderdale, district permit agent and packing house inspector, says:
The four best vegetables are tomatoes, peppers, eggplants and lima beans. There are no restrictions on the shipment of other vegetables. Mr. Taylor said.
After fruits and best vegetables are packed in standard containers the shippers should show their certificates to deputy inspectors, or near their shipping points, Mr. Taylor said.
These deputy inspectors in the three counties under Mr. Taylor's jurisdiction are:
Dade county—P. O. Carpenter, express warehouse, Miami, from 2 to 5 p. m.; I. C. Henderson, Kendall, who also covers the territory between South Miami and Perrine, during the afternoon; W. D. Mahan, Peters and Goude, during the afternoon; J. J. Moore, Homestead, covering the territory between Princeton to Florida City.
Broward county—J. S. Hinton, Fort Lauderdale, covering the territory from Fort Lauderdale to the L. D. county boundary, from 2 to 5 p. m.; Roland Hardy, Pompano, Charles T. Scott, Deerfield.
Palm Beach county—W. J. Webb, Delray Beach, south to the Broward county line; A. W. Garrett, Hypoxia to Lake Worth, afternoons; George T. Dyer, express warehouse, West Palm Beach; J. B. Henning, Jupiter.
Information affecting the three counties north of Palm Beach county may be had from Chester Brashear, Fort Pierce, district permit agent for Martin, St. Lucie and Indian River counties, Mr. Taylor said.

"GUS" STEWART
A. Stewart & Co., Inc., of 207 Duane street, New York city, distributors of fruits and produce, made a stop in Belle Glade this week. He owns a packing house in Belle Glade and is doing business here this season. W. R. Newberry, a North Carolina man, is his local representative.
Mr. Stewart thinks he was unfairly treated in communications printed last fall but he says he is not disposed to enter into any argument. He relies on the report of a representative of the Department of Agriculture and on the passage of time to vindicate his firm's conduct.
Mr. Stewart says he still has claims against some growers to whom money was advanced for seed two years ago and a year ago and he expects to collect all of it. The loans were made to reliable men who will pay as soon as they have the money.

C. P. High School

By Margaret Jones and Carolyn Mock.
Several of the high school girls went over to Boynton Tuesday evening to cheer for Pahokee, who was playing Boynton high. The girls were Oretta Thompson, Getha Smith and Carolyn Mock. Since the organizing of the junior Red-Cross in the fourth and fifth grades, a membership chart has been given to each high school room. We notice that in the last few days three names have been placed on the chart in the freshman and sophomore room. These are Getha Smith, Mary Baker and Inez Mansfield. These girls have now earned their "I serve" pins for being on the watch so as to be ready should anyone need them for anything.
Hooley! Christmas vacation will soon be here much to the joy of the pupils of C. P. H. S. We get out of school for the holidays Friday, Dec. 20. Vacation lasts until the second of January. Let's all hang up our stockings and eat lots of "Christmas" candy, cranberries and all the fixings and have a good time in every way.
County Superintendent Joe A. Youngblood visited the school Tuesday. We were having "gym" at the time he came so he visited several of the grammar grades.
A photographer came to the school house Thursday and took individual pictures of all the pupils who wanted them. The pupils, especially the younger ones, were well pleased with their photos.
Every week or two new pupils are added to the school. This week Miss Higgins has a new pupil, Lola Kantis.
The home demonstration agent, Mrs. Barra was here on Wednesday, Dec. 18, and gave some ideas for Christmas presents. Also she gave each girl a package of flowers for their flower gardens.
The books in the Everglades Children's Library are ready for distribution. Those for Canal Point will be kept in the auditorium here. Most of the books are for children. The school is a good age, so it will be their to have where the children will have access to them.
Mr. Cox' room gave a very enjoyable program last Friday of sack-faces and song and dance numbers.
The sophomores gave a Christmas party at the school auditorium Wednesday night. The audience was by a chorus.

Recitation, Edward and Helen Simmons.
"Luther's Cradle Song," Mrs. Horn's class.
"My Christmas Bells," Mrs. DeLoach's class.
Distribution of gifts.

AROUND THE LAKE

The Huffman Construction Company is temporarily making camp at Canal Point. The company has a camp at South Bay for more than a year. State road 20 is now extended west of Clewiston.
G. C. Price at old Bare Beach has a radio set that went through use out of it, although after it got soaked in water it had to be sent back to the factory to be worked on. A man who lives with Mr. Price is quite deaf but he hears the radio. He says he has heard the radio better than he could hear them in church.
Muck roads in the lake region are in good condition. The show are have laid the dust without making mudholes and have mended the sand roads helpfully.
Forty cents a hamper is reported as the price for picking in the Ritta district. This is a high price to pay for picking when beans sell for under a dollar and hampers cost 15 cents.

PLANS MADE FOR CHRISTMAS EVE

Welcome Recitation, C. R. Wetherington, Margaret Shearer, Deth, Catherine and Lloyd Taylor. Playlet, Mrs. Johnson's class. "Joy to the World" community. Recitation, Edward and Helen Simmons.
Christmas Greetings. May the New Year bring you luck and success.
And last, many good wishes to you for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.
Mrs. Filly finished first as prize. As a remembrance from Santa, each member was given an old-fashioned stick of candy, wrapped in tissue paper and tied with Christmas ribbon.
Delicious refreshments of hot coffee, sandwiches and fruit cake were served by Mrs. Pope, assisted by Mrs. Hankin.
Those enjoying Mrs. Pope's hospitality were Mesdames Filly, Joseph, Hankin, Jernigan, Mallard, A. L. Pope, Speer, Wetherington, Winnie and Vann.
The next meeting will be Tuesday afternoon, January 7th, at the home of Mrs. Vincent Stadnick. All members are asked to start the New Year off right and form the habit of attending the meetings regularly.

How Seed Loans Are To Be Paid

Farmers who got loans from the seed loan office of the United States Department of Agriculture are expected to make their payments to the office of the department at Columbia, S. C.
This information is sent to Professor H. L. Speer of Canal Point by L. E. White, the administrative officer in charge of the Columbia office. Mr. Speer had written to Mr. White for information as to the method of collection.
When the farmer sends money for payment to Mr. White at Columbia, Mr. White cancels the note and mortgage and returns them to the borrower.

SOUTH BAY SCHOOLS

CHRISTMAS IN JAPAN

While the festival of Christmas is celebrated in Occidental lands, the people of Japan have in the last days yet nevertheless there is an ever-growing tendency for it to be observed by the people of the South Bay schools. The outside states that contribute pupils to this school are listed below, in the order of the pupils represented:

From about December 10, the shops are very busy selling the Christmas things. The people here in celebrating the new year festivities. Every Japanese starts a new year of life of January, the custom being that a child born on Dec. 31, is two years old in January, because they count the age of a person by the number of years in which he has lived.

The first day of the new year is the day for the people and is spent by visiting friends and taking them presents. The decorations of the houses are new straws and trees while many use the national flag.

On January 7, a special food is eaten which will make the latter immune to the four seasonal ailments in Japan.

This ends the new year celebration in Japan, the last of the using one.

Meers, Covington and Harris, fire wardens, tarried two days with us recently in the attempt to reduce the danger from the usual sweeping sawgrass fires.

This portion of the south shore of Lake Okechobee, so long considered the coldest region of the Everglades, is fast losing its reputation. According to S. R. Cooper's weekly readings of the different instruments during the late cold spell Okechobee registered 40-mile bend 40 and all the rest of readings were from one to three degrees lower. Even nature contradicts our maligners.

Our trappers are meeting with better success than they had hoped for. The fur bearing animals have held their own remarkably well during the hurricane years and following inundations.
